These boots are great. First event had them submerged for about two days, and the only issue from that was the heel pad came unglued. Easy fix. After drying and being cleaned, they look well worn, but are none the worse for wear. Exactly what I'd expect from combat boots.

On my two holsters I applied lots of neatsfoot oil, put my pistol in a plastic bag and with a lot of pressure made it fit (leaving it at least overnight). It darkens the leather but makes a very nice fit. I’m not sure that the holster is made of steerhide leather but using the above process makes for a fine looking wwi look.

Love the XXL just received. Fabric is fantastic. Snap Fasteners show shelf life, easily retouched if desired. Initially ordered a size L based on item description - not quite. Returned for an XXL, based upon L sizing. Return process was "no wucking furries". WPG experience is solid there.

Who would have thought the Oliver Pattern would come to life again after more than 100 years? Certainly not Dr. Oliver, nor the British Army.

A well constructed pouch. The double stitching on the back was helpful as I placed this onto an 08 officers webset which is slightly wider than the sambrowne belt, by slicing through just the inner row of stiches. Dark Browne shoe dye helped the match to my original leather holster. Very reliable delivery times.

These are excellent, spot on quality materials and the attention to detail is impressive, well worth the price. I ordered 34" waist and they fit perfectly, sitting comfortably above the hips at the belly button level. I am always impressed by WPG productions and I first ordered their wares nearly 20 years ago via long

I've been doing WWI re-enacting for over 20 years and have gotten lots of the associated "stuff". My unit is doing a stateside impression and I picked up this tunic. It's magnificent. First, I called WPG for the first time ever but got a voicemail so I figured I'd email with some questions and left no message. Well, Jerry

I have an original A4 flight suit that I used to wear with a B17 Navigator impression. This item is essentially identical minus 2 zippers added to the original (on chest & leg pocket). Add 60+ years of age and it would be hard to distinguish from the original. Unbelievably quick shipping and customer service.

Overall the quality was outstanding. Only issue I had was with the metal closure on the retainer strap on the front of the case, it was very loose, but with some pliers I cramped it back in place. I have received many compliments as this is a hard item to find in serviceable condition. Great item for reenactments.
